To whom it may concern,

I'm not a CEO or anything like that but I am a college student who believes in a free market but not at the cost of a competitive one where the consumer, who drives the market, becomes the victim of an unregulated stranglehold upon it. It is vital that competition remains vigorous to produce the best possible product at the lowest possible price. We can not afford to have Microsoft, which I have nothing against personally, control a market which plays such a large part in the everyday functions of business around the globe. thank you for your time.
